

Alex Ray

To sum up who I am in one word would have to be: average. I go to school, come home, do my homework, eat dinner, go to church, and sleep in late. What many may not know about my overall "average" life as a freshman is my love for camping. My favorite smells are campfire smoke and pine trees. My favorite weather is rainy with a chance of showers, and my dream is to play my piano in a giant grass field under the stars. I am a musician, a hippie, a scholar, and a teenager. I am Alex Ray.
